Water District boil and conservation orders are lifted

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The state-mandated boil order for customers of the Bethel Water District was lifted at 12:30 Wednesday afternoon.

A related conservation order had been lifted two days earlier, as the district's reservoir on Paradise Hill approached full capacity.

Both orders had been imposed the previous Monday, after a weekend freeze took a temporary surface-water supply on Chapman Brook off line.

A temporary replacement source was soon tapped, but because of concerns about volume and the fact that the new source had not been tested, the conservation and boil orders were imposed.

But customers are now free to use as much water as they re-

Plans in the works for return of giant Bethel snowperson

By MICHAEL DANIELS

"I'll be back again some day," promised Frosty.

And if all goes well, some fine day this February Angus too will be back.

But morphed a bit, from "the world's tallest snowman," to the "the world's even taller snowwoman."

"Agnes" might seem a tempting proper name for the lady, but with planning still in the preliminary stages, the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce committee organizing the upcoming effort remains open on the matter of a name.

She might be named for a corporate sponsor, said Susan Duplessis, spokeswoman for the Snowwoman Committee.

Or, like her predecessor, perhaps a prominent Maine political figure.

Duplessis declined to say what political figure the committee might have in mind, but she did note that the U.S. Senate's Ethics Committee has been contacted.

And she promised the scale of the effort to create a worthy successor to Angus would be Olympian.

Worldwide notice

In early 1999 "Angus, the world's tallest snowman," attracted worldwide attention to Bethel.

Constructed on an empty lot overlooking the Bethel Parkway, Angus stood 113 feet, 7 inches tall, weighed 4,860,000 pounds, sported 5-foot fir wreath eyes, a 6-foot nose, 25-foot spruce tree arms, a mouth made of five automobile tires, three skidder-tire buttons and a 100-foot long, multicolored fleece scarf.

He was the result of five months of planning and work by various individuals and community groups, all coordinated by the BACC.

Angus' stature earned him, and Bethel, a listing in the Guinness Book of Records, a distinction he holds to this day.

Tight schedule

This year's snowperson campaign is on a much tighter

ANGUS, THE WORLD'S TALLEST SNOWMAN, came to town in 1999, bringing worldwide attention to Bethel.

Big guys set screen for newest teammate

The Harlem Rockets Basketball Team came to Bethel last Thursday to take on the Telstar "Faculty Dream Team." Partway through the second half, the players/entertainers decided they needed some help from a spectator. So they plucked Tommy Watson from the stands, and with two players setting a privacy screen, took off his shirt and replaced it with a large red, white and blue uniform shirt. Tommy and his new teammates went on to handily beat the Dream Team, by about 20 points. More photos, page 16.

Selectmen from four towns meet tonight to discuss the future of Tri-Town Rescue

By ALISON ALOISIO

The future of Tri-Town Rescue will be the topic of a joint meeting tonight (Thursday) of the selectmen of the four member towns.

Woodstock, West Paris, Sumner and Greenwood, as well as Milton Plantation, are served by Tri-Town.

Controversy over the administration of the organization has split members of the rescue service and the auxiliary.

It culminated last week with some auxiliary members—who voiced concern that patient safety could be in jeopardy—asking the towns to consider contracting with PACE Ambulance of Norway.

Balance of power

The auxiliary raises money to help support Tri-Town, which has an annual budget of approximately $280,000.

But Norm St. Pierre, chief of the ambulance service, told Greenwood selectmen at a meeting last month that the board of directors is dominated by auxiliary members who micromanage the service and prevent him from doing his job as he should.

The board representation includes rescue and auxiliary representatives, as well as a member from each town.

But several of the town representatives are also auxiliary members, making five of the six directors members of the support organization, according to St. Pierre.

"We're pretty much run by the auxiliary," he said.

At a meeting last February, he said, rescue members voted to "secede" from the auxiliary.

But Greenwood selectman Wayne Hakala, a member of the Tri-Town board and its chair at the time, "told us that wasn't going to happen," St. Pierre said.

Hakala is also a member of the auxiliary.

He was removed from his position on the Tri-Town board

SAD44 Board votes to look further at full-time police officer for Telstar

By ALISON ALOISIO

Having a police resource officer in a school "allows teachers to do the job they're supposed to do," Oxford County Sheriff Wayne Gallant told the SAD44 School Board Monday.

The board is considering whether to hire a police officer to serve as a full-fledged school resource officer (SRO) at the Telstar complex.

Gallant, county Chief Deputy Dane Tripp and Bethel Police Chief Alan Carr attended the board meeting to provide information on the role of such an officer.

Qualifications for the job include graduation/certification from the Maine Criminal Justice Academy as a police officer, as well as additional training as an SRO.

Late in the last school year, after a series of bomb threats,

'The biggest deterrent to crime is visibility,' Oxford County Sheriff Wayne Gallant told the board.

a BPD reserve officer was assigned to Telstar for several weeks. The assignment continued into part of this year.

The officer was well-received by students and staff, the board is now considering a permanent position.

Director Keith Farrington of

Andover has repeatedly posed the question of whether an SRO is worth possibly trading a teacher for, in order to hold the line in the school budget.

The presence of an officer, replied Gallant, makes teachers more efficient, by allowing them to focus more of their effort on teaching.

And, he said, "the biggest deterrent to crime is visibility."

The relationship between police and the schools has changed greatly over the past 20 years, Gallant said, beginning with the establishment

MHSA tests results mixed

By ALISON ALOISIO

The second year of using the College Board SAT test to assess 11th graders at Telstar High School has produced mixed results.

Curriculum coordinator Lee Graham presented the 2007 results of math, reading and writing testing to the SAD44 School Board Monday.

Sixty-seven juniors took the tests last spring.

There are two sets of standards in the testing those that individual students must meet or exceed to be considered "proficient," and

BCC VOLUNTEERS SOUGHT

To the Editor:

The Bethel Conservation Commission (BCC) is composed of five citizen volunteers who support the town by carrying on projects that preserve and enhance the natural resources of the town.

The BCC is responsible for overseeing management of the town forest, monitoring the Bethel street tree program, and developing native plantings along the Bethel Pathway.

It sponsors activities such as an annual photography contest that raise awareness of the town's natural beauty.

Its members developed and now maintain the Mt. Will Trail.

The Bethel Conservation Commission is looking for new members and encourages anyone who has an interest in Bethel's natural resources to fill out an application for a three-year term at the town office.

Please join the commission in its interesting and meaningful endeavors. You'll find that it is a very satisfying way to "give back" to your town!

Jacquelyn Cressy, Chair
Bethel Conservation Commission

BEAUTIFUL CHRISTMAS MUSIC

To the Editor:

Thank you to the Mahoosuc Community Band for your gift of truly beautiful and spirited Christmas music at Monday's concert.

You were wonderful. It must take a lot of practice to reach that level of fine performance.

Thank you also to the Bethel Inn for the use of the Conference Center for the concert.

The Christmas lights surrounding the room and the graceful brass chandeliers illuminating the red-clad band members and the packed-house audience brought a spirit of joy to the occasion. (The cookies and goodies were good, too.)

As a volunteer band, you are truly a gift to this community. Thank you again.

SENIOR PLAYERS THANKS

To the Editor:

I want to thank 16 outstanding thespians for their performances on Thursday, Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 6, 8 and 9. If you were able to attend, I know you had to be impressed with their talents and ability to engage you in a great time laughing and occasionally shedding a tear.

Those in the community who have supported the Players are also to be commended. Their laughter and applause have enriched each one of our hearts.

Western Mountains Senior College is to be thanked for offering the Senior Players as a course. Nancy Davis has allowed the Gehring House to be used as a rehearsal site for the players. We give her much gratitude. Gould Academy has generously offered the Trustees Auditorium in the McLaughlin Science Center as a venue for our performances.

We give Josh Oliver, student at Gould Academy, many thanks for helping us with lighting. Jay Boschetti of Steam Mill Antiques and Carol Campbell gave us exceptional help with props and changing sets.

We are indeed fortunate to be in a community that readily gives support to the arts. Thanks to all of you.

Lynn Arizzi
Director, Western Mountains Senior Players.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Citizen welcomes letters to the editor. We hope our readers will regard the newspaper as a public forum for discussing any topic they believe to be of interest to the community.

Insofar as possible, we attempt to publish letters without alteration, but we do reserve the right to edit for length, libel, taste and readability.

We do not knowingly publish letters that have been submitted to other newspapers, letters to third parties or letters that endorse products. We do not publish letters that are unsigned. These guidelines will be waived, however, when doing so is deemed to be in the community's interest.

In situations where the letter writer has a political, economic, familial or other relationship that could be perceived as bearing on the topic addressed in the letter, we strongly suggest the writer make that relationship known in the text of the letter or after their signature.

When writing, please include your full name, signature, address and telephone number (so that we may verify authorship).

The deadline for letters to the editor is 4:30 p.m. Monday. Letters submitted after that deadline will be considered for publication when circumstances permit.

Tri-Town

last month when the two other Greenwood selectmen voted him out.

They cited claims by rescue members that he had treated them rudely at meetings.

The ongoing dispute between the two groups grew in part from disagreements regarding the bylaws governing the board.

St. Pierre said in 1999, he proposed the board structure be modeled similar to that of Med-Care of Mexico.

Under that arrangement, he said, directors could not be members of either rescue or the auxiliary, thus keeping the responsibilities separate from the board.

But both groups claim the other side researched bylaw changes in defiance of or without the knowledge of the other.

St. Pierre said the separation of the board and rescue/auxiliary members became lost in that process.

Now, he said, "We do have a lawyer appointed" and "we're going to try to revamp everything."

St. Pierre said the current, incorporated Tri-Town organization could be dissolved and reformed as a municipalized entity, similar to Med-Care, which has an interlocal agreement among its 11 member towns.

Auxiliary perspective
At last week's Woodstock selectmen's meeting, attended by about 15 people, auxiliary members voiced their frustration with the situation.

"Board members have the right to ask questions [of St. Pierre]," said board and auxiliary president Doreen Wilbur, but she said many feel they don't get the answers they deserve.

Before joining the auxiliary, Wilbur served Tri-Town for 14 years as an emergency medical technician (EMT).

Selectman Ron Deegan suggested the two groups bring in a facilitator to help them work together to tighten up the bylaws.

"I think it's past that phase," said Wilbur.

Selectman Rick Young was hesitant to see selectmen get involved.

"It's an internal problem. It's up to Tri-Town to take care of it," said Young.

Don Lawrence, a former member of the rescue, said he believed "the way it could become a town issue is whether you decide if what's happening in Tri-Town could affect the quality of care to the people. That's your decision to make."

Deegan replied, "It hasn't come to our table that it has affected services."

But Hakala said there had been safety issues.

He said he could not be specific because of patient confidentiality, but "there have been cases that have ended ment skills, who can give us accountability."

Wilbur supported the proposal to contract with PACE, for the sake of safety and liability.

She said when Tri-Town was first established, members were proud of what they accomplished as a team.

But now, she said, "It kills me to come here and say Tri-Town's name isn't like it used to be. It hurts down deep. That was my baby ... But I can't stand by and see people hurt because of Tri-Town's name."

Deegan then asked for a written proposal for service from PACE.

Town Manager Vern Maxfield said after the meeting that tonight's joint meeting of the boards of selectmen would address options regarding Tri-Town, and whether to consider PACE.

St. Pierre replies

St. Pierre responded Monday to some of the comments made at the Woodstock meeting. Regarding patients' lives being in danger, "that is not happening," said St. Pierre.

He said there had been some issues in the past regarding care, but the rescue personnel involved were either no longer with the service or had participated in further training to make sure they were qualified to continue working.

As for his own qualifications to lead Tri-Town, St. Pierre said that before taking over as chief in 2000, he was chief of Buckfield Rescue for two years. He received a state award in that capacity, he said.

He is certified at the EMT-basic level, he said.

Two years ago, St. Pierre also took over as the chief of the West Paris Fire Department, and since then, he said, membership has grown from four to 20 certified members.

He suggested that Hakala was advocating contracting with PACE "because he's on the hot seat, and he's trying to shut us down. There's no reason to do that. We've got to hash this out and move on."

Tonight's meeting, open to the public, begins at 8:30 p.m. at the West Paris Town Office.

'The way it could become a town issue is whether you decide if what's happening in Tri-Town could affect the quality of care to the people. That's your decision to make.'

DON LAWRENCE

Former Tri-Town volunteer, talking last week with Woodstock selectmen gered people's lives. If those people had wanted to sue, then Tri-Town would be down."

He said that for more than a year, he had been "preaching" to the Tri-Town board that it was time for an interlocal agreement among the member towns.

But, he said, the only answers he got were that it couldn't be done and that "you're asking too many questions."

Now, said Hakala, he has spoken with Bob Hand, director of PACE, and Hakala believes it is feasible to contract with that organization.

Hand was present at the meeting but did not speak.

"PACE can give us the service we need and that the citizens deserve, and the taxpayers are going to save some money. I know that for a fact," said Hakala.

At last month's meeting in Greenwood Hakala also noted that he had spoken with Hand.

At that meeting St. Pierre took exception that Hakala had taken that step without consulting him.

At the Woodstock meeting, Hakala also said that the ambulance service "needs a chief of the highest license level, with proven managequire for any need, without the need to boil it when used for drinking or in conjunction with food preparation, John Head said in announcing the lifting of the restrictions.

Head, chairman of the BWD Board of Trustees, said the district was now drawing its water from a new, permanent underground source, and the water from that source has been tested and approved by the state.

He did note, however, that for a short period of time the water would have a chalky discoloration.

But the discoloration is caused by air still in the new system, he said, and does not affect the water's safety.

"It's perfectly fine to drink," Head said.

Should any further changes in the status of the water system occur, they will be posted as soon as possible to The Citizen homepage: www.bethelcitizen.com.

Keep the Holidays lead free

With the holiday shopping season coming right on the tails of numerous toy recalls, elves everywhere are wondering how they can find toys to tuck into stockings and under trees without inadvertently exposing good little boys and girls to lead or other hazardous chemicals.

One option for Santa's helpers in search of lead-free toys is create one-of-a-kind handmade heirlooms. Making your own toys is not only an age-old tradition and a way to infuse love into every stitch or block of wood, it's also a way to guarantee that the materials and finishes that go into those toys don't contain anything that you don't want to go into your kids' mouths.

If making toys would stretch your time-budget too far, search out locally-made toys at craft fairs or online. Several companies create wonderful handmade wooden toys here in Maine and around the U.S.

When buying toys made outside of the United States, there are some steps that parents can take to avoid lead in toys and children's jewelry. The Sierra Club www.sierraclub.org/healthycommunities/lead/ offers the following recommendations:

Purchase toys from stores, suppliers, and manufacturers that have said no to lead. Go to the Center for Environmental Health www.cehca.org/jewelry to get a list of companies that have agreed to reformulate their products.

Avoid purchasing toys from vending machines. In 2004, 150 million pieces of children's jewelry were recalled from vending machines nationwide.

Avoid toys which have small parts which may be swallowed, especially if the parts are metal or metallic.

Avoid glossy, fake painted pearls which may be painted with lead paint.

Test suspect jewelry and toys. LeadCheck swabs are available at most local hardware stores and can be used to test for lead in products you may purchase for your child. You can also order test kits online www.leadcheck.com. Remove toys that test positive from your child's toy box and dispose of them. For more information about disposing of lead-contaminated toys, contact your local municipality.

Get your child tested. Lead poisoning can generally not be detected any other way. Regular testing will ensure the health of your child.

Ask retailers if they have documentation that their toy jewelry does not contain lead. Stay vigilant. Sign up to receive e-mails from the Consumer Product Safety Commission www.cpsc.gov/cpscpub/prerel/prerel about new product recalls and view a list of past recalls of kids' products www.cpsc.gov/cpscpub/prerel/category/child.

While toys made in this country are sometimes more expensive than imports, they provide gift-givers with assurance that they're made with safe materials. In addition, they are often of heirloom quality that will be handed down from generation to generation, adding an element of reduce, reuse and recycle to gift-giving. Now that's something to celebrate.

SAD44 Ski Free Days start Sunday

NEWRY—Sunday River Ski Resort will offer four Community Ski Free Days to the residents of SAD44 this season. The ski days will be Sundays, Dec. 16, Jan. 6, Feb. 3, and April 13. In addition, SAD44 White Cap evenings will be offered on Thursdays, Jan. 24, Feb. 7 and March 27. In addition to free skiing, a 50-percent discount at food and beverage outlets will be offered on each of these days. On Community Ski Free Days Sunday River will offer free skiing and riding, free rentals, and free First Experience Learn to Ski or Ride clinics (clinics are for age 15-plus, pre-registration is required) to the residents of SAD44. Children who participate must have their name on the list that the ticket department receives from the SAD44 superintendent's office. Adults who wish to participate must show proof that they are residents of SAD communities (Andover, Bethel, Greenwood, Newry, Woodstock) by showing a driver's license, tax bill or some other document. People who wish to use their discount at the food and beverage outlets must show their lift ticket valid on that day.

Man indicted in ambulance crash

TURNER—A 30-year-old Turner man has been indicted on charges of manslaughter and drunken driving arising from an early morning crash last summer in Turner that killed a paramedic while he was tending a patient en route to the hospital. Christopher Boutin is accused of crashing his pickup truck into an ambulance on Route 4, killing 46-year-old Allan Parsons of Wilton. The ambulance driver, Arlene Greenleaf of Bethel, and Boutin were seriously injured. Investigators said Boutin was drunk at the time of the July 5 crash and failed to yield to the ambulance, which had its emergency lights on. The indictment handed up Thursday said Boutin's blood-alcohol level was more than 0.15, which is nearly twice the legal limit. Greenleaf, who also worked for Bethel Rescue, is continuing her recovery at home.

Hanover equalization/reval

BETHEL—The Town of Hanover has recently contracted with John E. O'Donnell & Associates of New Gloucester, to complete the Hanover Equalization/Revaluation Program. The town is implementing the program to ensure that all property is assessed fairly, officials say. Over the next year, representatives of the company will visit each property in Hanover. Company representatives will carry company identification and a letter of authorization from the Hanover municipal officials. The program will provide Hanover with a computerized assessment record system. Property owners will have an opportunity to meet with representatives of O'Donnell & Associates before the new assessments are finalized.

Telstar Winter Concert Monday

BETHEL—Telstar's Music Department annual Winter Concert will take place Monday, Dec. 17, at 7 p.m. in the Helen Berry Auditorium. The high school chorus and concert band will welcome in the holiday season. Admission is free, but donations are welcome.

Newry meeting/office schedule

NEWRY—The Board of Selectmen will meet Dec. 17 at 6 p.m., and the Planning Board Dec. 19 at 7 p.m. The Town Office will close at noon on Dec. 24, and will be closed Dec. 25 and Jan. 1.

Statewide consolidation snapshot

AUGUSTA—The Baldacci administration says Maine's 290 school districts appear to be meeting the goal to consolidate into no more than 80 districts. Education Commissioner Susan Gendron says all but one of Maine's school administrative units submitted a consolidation plan to the state or has a submission pending. The deadline to file plans was Dec. 1. Gov. John Baldacci proposed consolidation to improve efficiency and save tens of millions of dollars. A law was passed last June. As of noon Friday, 62 plans for regional school units of at least 1,200 students, and 13 plans for units of less than 1,200 students, had been submitted. Those include SAD44, which had initially planned to merge with SADs 43 (Rumford), 21 (Dixfield) and Union 37 (Rangeley). SADs 43 and 21, however, recently decided to pursue consolidation with SAD39 (Buckfield) instead, leaving SAD44 without a partner. The Bethel district has filed an alternative plan to remain a stand-alone district, barring other recommendations from the state.

Ski Maine tour

PORTLAND—A group of eight skiers is planning to whoosh down 17 of Maine's ski mountains over a 3 1/2-day span to promote the state's ski industry. The event is scheduled for the Martin Luther King Jr. holiday weekend and is being organized by Ski Maine Association. The challenge aims to make Mainers aware of the state's variety of places to ski and snowboard. Ski Maine Executive Director Greg Sweetser said the state's 17 member mountains have a total of 560 trails and 83 lifts. The skiers will start at Spruce Mountain in Jay on Jan. 18 and end up at the Camden Snow Bowl on Jan. 21. In between, they will travel nearly 1,000 miles and ski 85 trails on 15 other mountains.

Katahdin land to remain open

AUGUSTA—Gov. John Baldacci says hunters, snowmobilers and others who enjoy the outdoors will have access to more than 11,500 acres in the Mount Katahdin region in northern Maine, at least while the state holds an option to purchase the land. At the State House Monday, Baldacci was joined by conservationist Roxanne Quimby and Millinocket and state officials as he applauded the option from a corporation owned by Quimby. The state must raise $3 million within two years to purchase the land. Baldacci says the purchase will mean more predictable land use in the Katahdin region in the future. Quimby, the former owner of cosmetics business Burt's Bees, is also buying 8,900 acres in the area. She's granted public access for uses such as pedestrian hiking and snowmobiling along specified trails on some of her properties. Quimby also says she'll discuss allowing ATV trails on the land.

Sunday River offers dog passes

NEWRY—Now every member of the family can enjoy a Sunday River season pass. New passes designed specifically for Fido are on sale at the season pass office at the South Ridge Base Lodge. The $20 passes are not valid for access to the ski slopes, but will provide all the benefits of dog identification including name and phone number along with a photo. Sunday River is not responsible if Fido eats his or her season pass ID tag. All proceeds will benefit the effort to upgrade Bethel's Davis Park Playground. A new benefiting charity will be selected every six months. The doggie season pass ID tags will be available for purchase throughout the year. "We're thrilled at the idea," said Joyce Pereira of the non-profit Davis Park Rehabilitation Committee. "Hopefully people will like the idea of getting their pooch a pass for a good cause. Maybe we'll see them up and down Main Street here in Bethel, and all the way into Boston."

er schedule than the 1999 effort. There are only two months until early February, when the committee hopes to have the snowwoman completed. But this time around there is plenty of experience to draw on. Engineer Jim Sysko, who supervised the earlier construction, is heading that effort again, and being assisted by Sunday River engineer Joe Aloisio and long-time Sunday River snowmaker Bill Brown. The team is already at work evaluating possible designs and technical approaches, including the possibility of using new high-tech, low-energy snowmaking guns made available by Boyne USA, the new owner of Sunday River. The budget for this year's effort is $25,000, Duplessis said, and sponsors are currently being sought. The snowwoman will be constructed on the same site as was Angus. The Snowmaking Committee was scheduled to present more detail to the Bethel Planning Board yesterday

(Wednesday) evening. Resurrecting the spirit "The chamber board feels it's time to resurrect the spirit of winter that was so evident when the tallest snowman was built in 1999," Duplessis said earlier Wednesday. "And those involved before have stepped up to the plate to do it again. The previous event put an incredible spotlight on the village," Duplessis said. "We hope to recreate that excitement. It seems even more fitting now that we've had such a strong start to winter."

D.A.R.E., a drug education program taught by police officers. "It used to be when a police officer came to a school the students would say, 'What is he doing here?'" said Gallant. "With an SRO, now they say, 'I've got this problem. What do I do?'"

Chief deputy was an SRO Tripp described his role as an SRO at SAD55 in Hiram, where he served a year before becoming chief deputy.

While most of his time was devoted to Sacopee Valley High School, he also maintained a presence at other schools.

The school system has about 500 students, he said. Tripp provided statistics on the amount of time devoted to various activities, and on the types of incidents with which he dealt.

The breakdown included 29 percent of his time advising students; 10 percent each advising staff and patrolling school facilities; and 5 percent each advising parents and developing safe school plans. Seventeen percent was devoted to subpoena work. As for incidents, Tripp reported 254 between January of 2006 and November of 2007. A total of two-thirds fell under the categories of disorderly conduct, larceny/theft, disruptive behaviors/defiance, threat/intimidation, criminal mischief, bullying or harassment. "Tripp said in many cases, instead of sending students into the court system, he was able to handle problems one-on-one. It gives them an introduction to law enforcement other than handcuffs," he said.

Carr was asked how frequently BPD officers have been called to Telstar. "Some weeks it's two or three times," he said. "But then we can go a month without being called."

But, said Carr, in the four years since he became chief he believes the incidents have become more serious. "Not long ago we had a young man who wanted to settle a score with a knife in the parking lot," he said. "I was in West Bethel, but the school officer was at Telstar, and he helped to calm the situation."

Problems at the school include drugs, threats, harassment, and kids in fear of bigger kids, he said.

But with an officer at the school, (students) could go and share their concerns," he said.

Next steps After the presentation, majority of the board voted to continue researching the SRO position.

The next step will be to craft a job description on which they can vote. The Policy Committee will also develop a policy to guide school officials.

Five directors voted against further consideration, and some who favored it expressed concern about the need for public input.

"I've never been so uncomfortable with a vote," said Director Cheryl Thurston of Bethel.

Supt. Dave Murphy said public comment can be sought as the process progresses.

The position would likely be proposed for the FY09 school budget year, he said. Tripp said grant funding might be available to help pay for an officer.

federal standards the class as a whole must meet to achieve annual yearly progress (AYP).

The target percentages for AYP were 50 percent of students proficient in reading and 20 percent proficient in math, Graham said.

Writing is not considered in the federal requirements.

In reading, 36 percent of THS students met the proficiency standard (14 percent below the AYP standard), compared to 46 percent statewide.

Despite not reaching 50 percent, Telstar still met AYP requirements because students improved by 10 percent over last year's students, Graham said. The state, however, did not meet the requirements.

In math, 25 percent of THS students were proficient (5 percent above the AYP standard), compared to 40 percent statewide.

Both THS and the state made the AYP requirement.

In addition to the test percentages, AYP requirements also dictate that a school achieve at least a 64-percent graduation rate.

Telstar's rate was 79 percent, compared to the state average of 83 percent.

"Some of the results are encouraging while others indicate areas in need of continued effort," Graham said in her report.

Comparisons between the performances in reading and writing of last spring's 11th graders and those of 2006 were also mixed, with some percentages better in 2007 and some poorer.

The math assessment this year included additional questions, so a comparison could not be made.

Detailed results of the Maine high school educational assessment can be found online at http://www.maine.gov/education/mhsa/school_reports.

The Way I See It

by Sharon Bouchard

According to the Alaskan Department of Wildlife male reindeer shed their antlers in the late fall. The female of the species does not. They shed in the early spring, so by Christmas their antlers are fully regrown.

Based on that information Rudolph and her eight companions are female. Not a boy reindeer in the bunch.

Well, that comes as no surprise to me. When you think about the effort required to haul a sleigh with a jolly old fat man and an astronomical number of toys all around the world in one night it makes sense that the reindeer would be female.

Okay, so you say just think about how heavy the load would be. It would require the brute strength of males to pull that kind of weight. Under normal circumstances I'd say that is correct, but these are not normal circumstances and these are not normal reindeer. There is some pretty serious reindeer magic that would allow the reindeer to fly in the first place, not to mention how much speed would be required to cover the whole world, stopping at every house and be back at the North Pole by daybreak.

The weight involved and the strength required to handle it are not an issue. The fact that it gets done is the issue and females would be far better equipped to accomplish that mission.

It seems to me that great organizational skills and a spirit of reindeer cooperation would be necessary to complete the task.

Have you ever watched a group of women work together on a potluck supper or a rummage sale? That requires organization and cooperation. The same would hold true of the reindeer's all-night trek around the world.

That is proof that no reindeer got lost by trying a shortcut.

If the reindeer were male, as the myth would have us believe, the job would take forever to get done. They would be stopping off at every other watering hole and shooting the breeze about the latest reindeer games.

Not to mention that the males would not, without question, put Rudolph in the lead simply because his nose glows. After a few watering hole stops all their noses would be glowing anyway.

I think if the reindeer were male there would be a lot of alpha male jockeying for position and they might never even get off the ground in the first place.

And, what about all those toys? Do you really think a bunch of males would just haul them around the world without playing with them first? With all the remote-controlled toys in Santa's sleigh do you really think any self-respecting male reindeer would pass up that opportunity?

And then there's the fact that as Christmas morning dawns around the world all the stockings are stuffed, the cookies and milk consumed and presents under the Christmas trees. That is proof that no reindeer got lost by trying a shortcut.

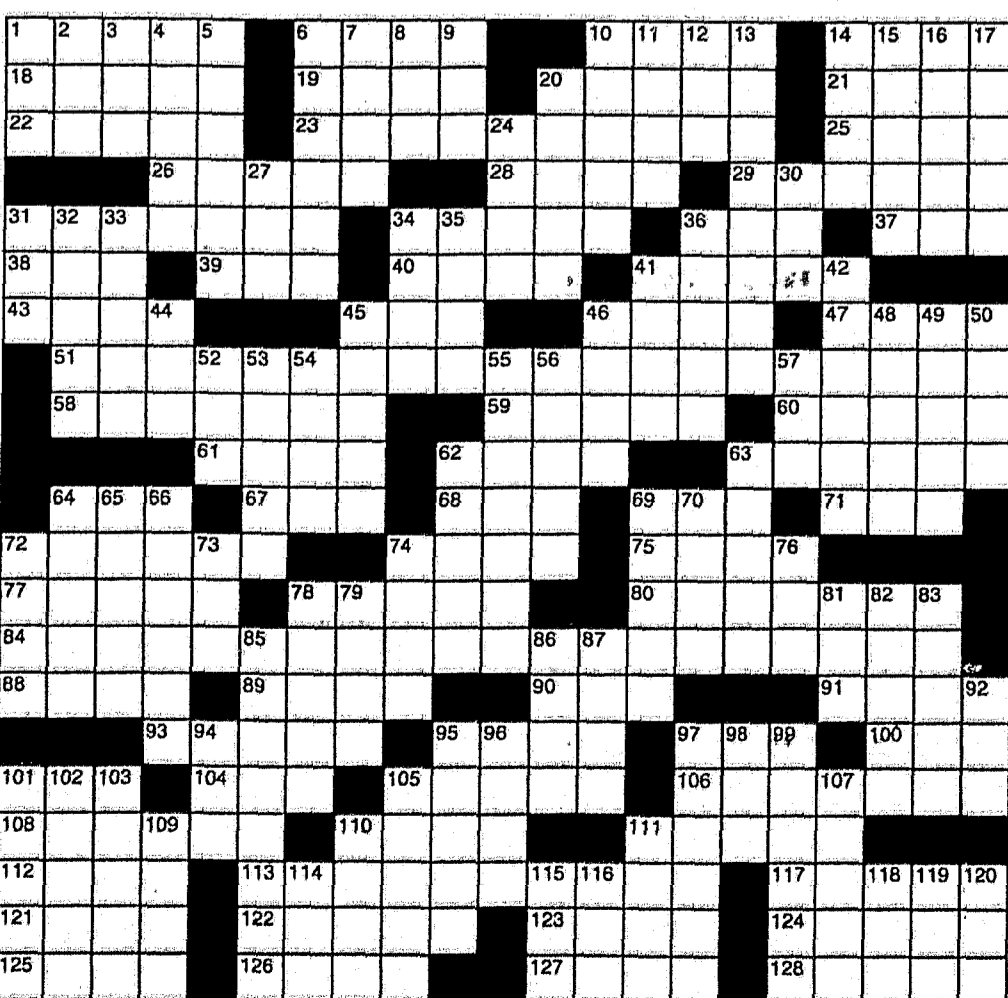

To me that is proof that the Alaskan Department of Wildlife is absolutely correct about the female reindeer.

I mean no disrespect to the male species. I think they are wonderful and we certainly need them to get the Christmas trees into the house and standing straight in the stand. That's a task that I definitely could not do without the assistance of one of the males of the family.

In fact, I'm willing to bet that Santa's elves are all male. They do come up with the best ideas in toys and electronics and they love tools and workshops.

But I am now a firm believer that on Christmas Eve when Santa loads up his sleigh and hooks the team of reindeer to the front of it they will all be females, and the way I see it the leader of the pack will be the ever popular red-nosed Rudolphia.

Festive Crafts for Gift Giving That Your Friends & Family Will Love!

Ice Candles

Line your walkway with these beautiful candles!

tall, narrow buckets
cranberries
holly leaves pepperberries evergreen sprigs paper cup pebbles tape
votive or tea light

Fill any tall, narrow bucket with water; a sap bucket would be perfect. Add lots of fresh cranberries, holly leaves, pepperberries or evergreen sprigs to the water. Fill a paper cup with pebbles then stretch 4 or 5 strips of tape from the inside of the cup to the outside of the bucket. Make tape strips long enough that they'll secure the cup in the middle of the bucket to keep it from sinking to the bottom. Freeze until the water's solid, slide off the bucket and remove the paper cup. You may have to tear the cup out a little at a time to remove it completely, then set a votive or tea light in the hole created.

Cheery Snowmen

Make these snowmen as gifts for friends and family... they're really easy!

shredded paper
all-purpose flour
3 foam balls
toothpicks twigs orange paint
2 black beads
red paint
fabric scraps

Fill an old kettle with water; bring to a boil. Add shredded paper and let simmer until paper begins to fall apart, usually about 30 minutes. Stir occasionally to keep paper from sticking to kettle. Drain excess water and use a hand mixer to break up paper. Add enough flour to the mixture until you have a sticky dough consistency; set aside. Use any size foam balls for your snowman body. So the snowman will stand, cut a small portion off the bottom ball. Use toothpicks to hold the 3 balls together and add a toothpick where you'll want each arm to be. Mold the paper mixture around the balls until they're well covered. Remove arm toothpicks and insert small twigs, add an orange painted toothpick for the nose. Let dry in a warm place for several hours, then glue on black beads for eyes and paint on rosy cheeks. A hat can be made from a length of fabric glued into a tube shape. Tie it at one end with raffia and roll the other; slip on your snowman's head, tie on a scarf and your snowman is ready for the holidays!

Snowflake Hurricanes

Set several of these along your buffet table.

contact paper
glass hurricane shades
rubber gloves
etching cream

Cut out a snowflake pattern on a sheet of contact paper; set the snowflake aside. Using snowflake "background" piece, gently peel the backing from the contact paper and position it on a glass shade. If you want some of the glass to show through your snowflake, cut out little shapes from contact paper, remove the backing and place them on the glass inside your snowflake. Wearing a pair of rubber gloves, apply etching cream to the open areas of the snowflake, according to the manufacturer's instructions on the jar. Let dry for 15 minutes. Rinse your glass shade under warm running water to remove the cream and contact paper, then wash with soap and water; dry thoroughly. Tuck a candle or votive inside and enjoy!

Country-Style Candles

Light the way to your home with country-style candle holders!

canning jars of different sizes 16-gauge wire
sand, small gravel or cat litter
3 2 or 3-inch pillar candles
wire cutters

Gather together several sizes of glass canning jars. Use pliers to twist a loop at each end of a length of 16-gauge wire, this will be your handle. Wrap another piece of wire around the lip of your canning jar, slipping it through the 2 loops of the handle. Twist the ends of the wire around the jar lip and cut off any excess with wire cutters. Repeat with your remaining glass jars making the handle on each a different length. To keep a candle from tipping over, fill the bottom of each jar with about one inch of cat litter, sand or gravel, then tuck a 2 or 3-inch pillar candle securely inside. Hang 2 or 3 on a shepherd's crook. They'll look great along your walkway, lighting the porch steps or scattered throughout your garden.

Keepsake Cookbook

Create a book of memories to be shared and cherished.

recipe album
color copies of family photos
decorative-edge scissors glue stick collection of family stories decorative paper punches sheets of heavy cardstock stickers colorful pens
ruler

Too many times we wish we could prepare a favorite recipe we remember from childhood, but over the years the recipe's been lost or sometimes never even written down. This Christmas, make a keepsake cookbook that will be treasured gift for someone you love. Be creative! Color copies of family pictures will really make your book special. Cut them out with decorative-edge scissors and scatter throughout your book. Take a tape recorder to family get-togethers and ask family members to talk about their best recipes and the story behind them, then write or type those memories next to the recipe. Sometimes heirloom recipes need to be adjusted to compensate for today's ingredients or ovens. You may even need to follow your mom or grandmother around the kitchen, take notes and measure the quantities as she cooks. Also, copies of handwritten recipe cards can add a sentimental touch to your book, so sprinkle them among typed recipes.

Chocolatey-Peanut Butter Cookie Mix

Two of everybody's favorite flavors in one terrific cookie!

1 cup brown sugar, packed
1 1/2 cup powdered sugar
3/4 cup cocoa
1 1/2 cup all-purpose flour
1 tsp baking powder
1/4 tsp salt

In a one-quart wide-mouth canning jar, layer the first 2 ingredients, packing down as tightly as possible. Add cocoa, pack down, then wipe the inside of the jar with a paper towel to remove any excess cocoa from the sides. Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt, add to jar; pack down tightly. Attach a gift tag that reads: Cream together one stick butter, 2 eggs and half cup peanut butter; stir in dry mix. Shape into balls and place on a lightly oiled baking sheet. Bake at 350 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes. Makes approximately 2 1/2 to 3 dozen cookies.

From the Bethel Police Log:

Monday, Dec. 10

At 7:34 a.m. Chief Al Carr responded to the intersection of Route 26 and the Intervale Road for a two-vehicle property-damage accident.

At 11:40 a.m. Chief Al Carr responded to the Intervale Road for a car/pole property-damage accident.

Sunday, Dec. 9

At 12:45 a.m. Officer Jeff Campbell responded to the Chandler Hill Road for a report of a vehicle that had driven onto a front lawn after exiting a residential development. The officer observed evidence the vehicle had been traveling at a high rate of speed, went through the ditch and broke through a log on the lawn, continuing for approximately 100 feet before striking a horse shoe stake. There were several pieces of plastic from the vehicle lying on the ground.

At 5:50 p.m. Lt. S.R. White assisted Bethel Rescue with a medical call on the Songo Pond Road.

Saturday, Dec. 8

At 7:20 p.m. Officer T.J. Reese and Lt. S.R. White received a report of a vehicle driving at a high rate of speed. They located it on Route 2 and warned the driver.

At 8:12 p.m. Officer George Gould took a report of telephone harassment.

Friday, Dec. 7

At 5:55 p.m. Officer T.J. Reese assisted a county officer with an accident on the North Road, with personal injury.

At 8:20 p.m. Officer George Gould responded to a Main Street parking lot for a report of juveniles having a verbal dispute. After the officer spoke with them they left.

Wednesday, Dec. 5

At 5:40 p.m. Officer Michael Charest assisted a county deputy on Route 26 in Greenwood with an OUI suspect.

At 6:30 p.m. Officer Michael Charest responded to Telstar High School for a report that a student had been offered marijuana.

At 9:20 p.m. Officer Michael Charest stopped a vehicle on Railroad Street for defective lights. The driver was found to have a suspended license. Paul Muncey, 23, of Lewiston was arrested for operating after suspension. He was also summonsed for failure to produce proof of insurance.

This report highlights points of interest from the Bethel Police Department log. It lists cases reported in the log of adults being arrested or issued a summons in the 10 days prior to the newspaper's publication, but does not include all reports of police activity, such as routine speeding tickets and other civil violations. To reach the Bethel Police Department, call 911 in emergency situations; 824-3437 in non-emergencies.

Tips from the Bethel Police Department

1. If you dial 911 by mistake, don't hang up. Stay on the line and tell the dispatcher what happened.
2. So that responders can find you quickly in an emergency, make sure your house number is clearly visible from the road — on the house if it is near the road, or on a mailbox or post if the house sits more than 50 feet back.
3. Watch out for scam letters and phone calls. A letter may state you have won money and need to pay a fee to claim the prize and release the money. Sometimes people will receive a check they are directed to cash, and then repay a portion to the sender. Phone scams may also attempt to elicit information (such as a social security number or birth date) the caller can use to steal someone's identity. And if a caller says they are collecting money for a good cause, ask that written information be sent first.

Oxford County Sheriff's Dept:

Wednesday, Dec. 5

At 9:32 a.m. Cpl. Chancey Libby responded to the Sawyer Notch Road in Andover for a report of someone trying to steal the inspection sticker from a truck.

At 1:18 p.m. Cpl. Chancey Libby received a report that a burglary at a seasonal home had taken place on the Sunday River Road in Riley Township. A door had been kicked in, the alarm went off and the subjects departed without entering.

At 9:43 p.m. Deputy Shane Thomas responded to the Coombs Village Road in Newry for a report of a burglary at a seasonal residence.

Tuesday, Dec. 4

At 10:21 a.m. Cpl. Chancey Libby responded to the Douglas Road in Newry for a report of a burglary of a vacant residence.

At 4:53 p.m. Sgt. Tim Ontengco responded to the Hunts Corner Road in Albany for a property-damage accident. The driver had done a 180 and gone off the road.

Monday, Dec. 3

At 9:33 a.m. Cpl. Chancey Libby responded to the South Ridge Road in Newry for a report from a business owner on the possibility of company money being missing.

At 6:36 p.m. Deputies Mike Halacy and George Cayer responded to the Upton Road in Andover for a report of an assault. Fred E. Emerson, 60, of Andover was arrested for violation of a protection order and was also charged with violation of conditions of release.

West Bethel

by Lorrie Hoeh

After a highly over-predicted snow-fall last Monday, which amounted to a "whopping" nine inches, we had a small surprise this Monday morning, when a couple of inches of fluffy white stuff covered all the dog tracks and other detritus. The snow cover has made daily visitors of a flock of nine turkeys, and they are joined by the usual suspects. Haven't seen the crossbills or redpolls for several days.

By the way, the red squirrels are still around, despite all our relocation efforts. However, we have noticed that when the turkeys are here, the squirrels are not. Let's hear it for the turkeys!

Last week I saw at the IGA, of all places, several pine grosbeaks feeding on the fruit of the little tree planted just outside the door in the sidewalk. There were some on the ground and several in the branches, so colorful, and such a pleasant sight.

As I promised last week, I donned skinny skis on Monday morning and several mornings after that to ski in truck-tire tracks down the forest road. It feels good to get all those muscles working together again. Every once in a while, my ski catches a stick or rock and sends me bum-over-teakettle to land in the (thankfully) soft snow bank.

Last Thursday evening was the annual "Christmas with the Masons" event at the Bethel Historical Society. It is always enjoyable for me to sit by the fire and knit while I keep an eye on the lit candles and visit with the many friends, neighbors, and strangers who come by. Of course, having cookies and mulled cider is kind of nice, too.

Senior Players had their fall production on Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon at Gould's McLaughlin Auditorium. We had a full house for both performances, and the audience seemed appreciative of our efforts. I know that I, for one, had a wonderful time "hamming it up," and I look forward to next fall when we will do it again. I saw neighbors Linda Westleigh and Jane Hosterman, as well as Barbara Mahler, out there on the other side of the footlights.

My spinning group, the Bethel Area Amiable Arachnes (or "B-a-a-a"), met last Wednesday at the home of one of our members on Streaked Mountain Road in Paris for our annual Christmas party. We had wonderful food, a Yankee Swap, and good fun and fellowship (or should I say, "dameship"). During the past month we collected enough money among us to purchase two sheep for Heifer International. These will go to needy families somewhere in the world.

It was a busy time at the West Bethel Union Church this past weekend. Saturday night was the occasion of the church's annual Christmas fellowship supper. Danny and Lydia Grover put up the Christmas tree in the sanctuary, and installed all the lights, as well as a few ornaments near the top. After dinner the children finished the decorating, hanging ornaments within their reach, making for a very special and beautiful tree.

The Rev. John Williams read "The Night Before Christmas" to the children before they were all called to the parlor where Santa was waiting for them. Barbara Mahler, who works for Santa, had arranged for him to have appropriate gifts for each child in the congregation. Each one received his or her special present as he called their names in turn. Afterward, the whole group of 40 or 50 folks sang carols until they were "sung out," and everyone ended the evening with very warm feelings.

This is the week I have to get serious about shopping, knitting, card-writing, baking, etc. Having said that, I'll say goodbye for now and hope that I'll

GRANT PURCHASES—Tri-Town Ambulance recently purchased a variety of equipment and gear with a $66,789 FEMA grant. EMT Nigel Lussier and Asst. Chief Craig Colman are pictured here with a Lifepack 12 defibrillator and one of 35 sets of perimeter gear. The new defibrillator, which also serves as a monitoring device, provides more precise information than previous models used by Tri-Town, according to Colman. The perimeter gear will provide rescue members the same protection as firefighters for approaching victims close to a fire scene. It also offers cold weather protection. Also purchased with grant funds was a PlymoVent system for the garage portion of the station. The vent removes fumes from the exhaust pipes of idling rescue vehicles and carries the fumes outside the building. (Photo: A. Aloisio)

Alder River Grange will hold a regular meeting on 14 Dec. at Lynn Mason-Courtney's home in Sudbury Village with a 6 p.m. potluck supper and meeting at 7 p.m. This will be our Christmas meeting; please bring something for the food pantry.

Nina Mollicone picked up Marilyn Mollicone in Augusta on 24 Nov. and went to Carolyn and Conrad Grant's in Winterport for Thanksgiving. Alice Grant of Cape Elizabeth, Marty and Priscilla Jackson of Old Town with Courtney and Marey and Carolyn's great-granddaughter, Sierra, were all there for the feast.

If you have news, please give me a ring at 824-3350. God Bless the Troops.

Newry

by Sylvia Harrington

Hunting season is over and the Bear River Trading Post was a very busy place during that time. The total deer count was 151. The largest buck weighed 239 pounds. It was tagged by James Casey of Mass. The biggest buck contest was won by Dennis Doyon. His deer was a 10 point buck weighing in at 198 pounds. The biggest doe was tagged by Scott Berry and weighed 122 pounds.

If you stop in at the BRTP this week, broccoli soup is the specialty. Check out all the other goodies either to eat there or purchase for later, and especially their warm weather gear.

Monday evening I had a nice talk with Janis Cronin of Zephyrhills, Fla. She and Jack had just been in Maine last week to attend Jack's business holiday party. Janis drove up to the Veteran's home in South Paris to visit her dad, Lee Swan.

Lately I have noticed lots of deer tracks along the road, crossing the road, and even stopping for a nibble of the small bushes next to the stairway of the Newry Church. Perhaps they are aware that the season is over for them being targets!

Andover

by Melinda Averill

I need to make a correction to last week's article on Freeman Farrington, and the reception in his honor as Grand Chancellor. I had written that attending the reception for Andover Lodge members was Orville Meisner. Orville did not attend as he was feeling under the weather.

I think that I saw his wife Barbara there and just assumed that Orville was there also, and I just missed him. Also attending from out of town were Joy and Herschel Hall from Ashburnham, Mass. Herschel is also an Andover Lodge member.

Sympathy is extended to Betty Andexler and her family for the loss of her mother in November.

Sympathy is also to Mark and Anna Snyder for the loss of his father, former Andover resident Eddie Snyder of Mass.

He worked for AT&T in Andover for 31 years before retiring. A memorial service was held on Dec. 8 in Holden, Mass. Memorial contributions may be made to Tobacco Free Kids at www.tobaccofreekids.org or the American Lung Association.

Congratulations to the following Andover students making the honor roll at Telstar for the first quarter: Grade six, Nikolas Conrad, Kayla Cole; Grade seven, Gabrielle Conrad, Jennalee Putnam; Grade 8, Adam Mahar; Grade 9, Elex Pew; Grade 10, Amy Jane Mahar; Grade 11, Whitney Mills; Grade 12, Esther Pew, Julia Seaborn.

AES is sponsoring a canned food drive for the Andover food pantry. AES will be accepting food items from the 10th of December through the 21st.

If anyone has items to donate they can drop them by the school during the week between the hours of 8 a.m. and 3 p.m., or give Tracy a call at 392-1113 and she can arrange to pick up your donation.

Happy birthday to Hunter Nadeau on the 15th, and Joseph Putnam on the 16th.

Keith Giles was the winner of the Christmas in Andover Gift Basket!

Keith and many others visited all five participating venues last Saturday.

This was a fun step to evolving the day of the Holiday Craft Fair to a larger community event which can be engaging for families and help our Andover economy.

A big thanks to all shoppers who participated and to Akers Ski, Andover Historical Society, Mills Market, Andover Supply, Andover Way Antiques and the Holiday Craft Fair.

Paul Simon
once wrote and sang the following—

A winter's day, in a deep and dark December, gazing from my window at the street below, on a frosty fallen silent shroud of snow. Well, that's how I felt on last Tuesday morning when I looked out my window. As they say "snow, snow, beautiful snow—step on a jump and away you go."

Can you tell that I really, really, hate the darn stuff? Well only four more months of it, I hope. I know I have to deal with it one day at a time, but they can be really long days sometimes.

JoAnne Palmer had a very nice surprise last Friday morning at 5 a.m. Her son Russell and her grandson Brandon Palmer came all the way from Lexington, KY, to visit. As you may remember, Brandon was injured last summer and he is really doing very well, much better than the doctors thought he would when he was first injured. Way to go Brandon.

I want to thank our next door neighbors Wanda and Pete Coolidge for plowing us out last week, it was greatly appreciated let me tell you. It's a blast to watch Wanda's face when she is driving her plow. She really loves that thing.

Carolyn Simmons Merrill's family held a 60th Birthday Party for her last Sunday. Happy Birthday Carrie, and many, many more.

I sort of promised that I wouldn't do this, but I can't help myself. If you see Scott Farrington, please ask him about his damaged cell phone. Scott was so helpful to me last week when our car got sick, that I promised to be nice to him. Love you Scott.

The First Congregational Church will be holding a Candle Light Service starting at 7 p.m. on Christmas Eve. After the service there will be refreshments served.

The Calvary Bible Church will be holding a Sunday School Program and Christmas Concert on Sunday Dec. 23 at 10:45 a.m.

The church also holds Awake Club meetings every Friday from 3 to 5 p.m. This is a very well attended program, but there is always room for more kids. Children from Kindergarten through sixth grade are welcome.

I want to welcome two new members to our East Andover community. Bright, Jr. and Star Conrad have come to town to join the Teddy and Sandy Conrad household. Bright, Sr. and Lion and numerous guinea hens are already happy at home there. There is only one upsetting side to the situation, Bright, Jr. and Star are "flatlander" oxen. Teddy and Sandy are working very hard to acclimate them to our small town ways and they don't seem to want to change anything about our wonderful town yet.

The Roxbury ATV Riders Club hosted ATV Maine last Saturday at the Town Hall. Over 65 members of various ATV clubs attended. Various discussions were held on the Plum Creek development in the Moosehead region, and other legislative news. David and Betsey White were recognized again as Landowners of the Year. A lot of revenue is brought to Andover during the winter because of these members and it is really appreciated.

I bought some really great gifts at the Craft Fair held at the Fire Station last Saturday, but as far as I know I didn't win any raffle prizes. Oh well, there is always next year.

Why did the little boy wear boots when he climbed the stairs? He didn't want to get his feet wet in the creeks. See ya.

The snow that arrived last Monday resulted in a snow day for SAD44. Then on Tuesday, everyone got another day off. The weather was still not too great for traveling, but the reason was the lack of water in Bethel. Some of the problems were solved when drinking water was brought into the schools on Wednesday and the students could return to school.

After a snowstorm like last Monday, there are sometimes different birds that appear at the feeder. Last year after one of these storms, there were snow buntings, but this storm brought in a Canada Jay or Gray Jay.

I told my brother, Steve McLain, about the Canada Jay and he was telling us a story about how these birds used to hang around the logging yards and beg food from the loggers. There was another little bird that we could not identify, it looked and acted like a junco, but had some gray on it and a brown back with white wings and tail.

The construction on Route 2 is coming right along. Last Friday, I had a twenty minute wait while they blasted the front of the ledge and cleaned it up. A good chunk of the ledge is now gone and we hope to get down to take some more pictures.

RINGING THE BELLS TO HELP KIDS
Ellie Andrews was one of many members of the Bethel Rotary Club taking a turn ringing sleigh bells outside the Bethel Foodliner to collect money for the club's annual Christmas for Children project. Funds donated at the store, at Sunday River Ski Resort and by mail go toward purchasing presents for children in the area whose families might not otherwise be able to afford gifts for them. The bells will ring again this weekend.

Hugh and I went to the Bethel Historical Society's "Christmas with the Masons" last Thursday evening. We got to tour the house by candlelight and enjoy the fireplaces that were lit and giving off quite a bit of warmth.

I received an email from my friend, Louann Bell, and she told me that I had won the teddy bear that had been raffled off at the "Windows to the Holidays" craft fair that we went to in Waterford. Hugh had purchased some tickets from Happy Chapman, who was one of the ladies at the ticket table that day. She is also a member of the Gilead Historical Society. The bear's name was "Millie" and since that was my mother's name, he thought it would be nice to try and win the bear.

Hugh and I attended the December meeting of the Oxford County Mineral and Gem Association last Friday evening. It was held at the home of Norman and Eleanor Davis of Newry. This meeting was the annual Christmas Party and everyone brought some baked goods to share and gifts to swap. Dennis Brown did a demonstration on earring making and a few of the members tried their hand at it. The club meets on the first Friday of the month with a few exceptions such as the annual meeting in January. The club is making plans for the Mineral Show that is held at Telstar in July.

I am finally mailing the package to my nephew, Major Stephen McLain, who is in Iraq.

The first real snow of the season usually brings about a rash of minor accidents by people who don't realize how slippery it is. Matt Ludden found out by personal experience last Wednesday afternoon. At about 4 p.m. I was just putting my tractor in the garage, when Mona yelled and told me Matt wanted me to bring my truck and a chain to the corner of the Flat Road and Meadow Brook Bridge Road because he was stuck in the snowbank in his pickup. I decided my tractor with skidding winch was a better idea. I put on a warmer jacket and gloves for the cool two-mile ride on the tractor.

It was beginning to get dark by the time I could see Matt's truck at a dizzying angle in the snowbank. A closer look revealed that the rear end of the truck was barely hanging on to enough snow to keep from sliding into the deep drainage ditch that drains high water which flows under the road whenever the Pleasant River water level is high enough. Matt was still in the driver seat, afraid to move for fear of disrupting the delicate balance. He told me to just hook my winch onto one of the towing hooks in the front bumper, which I did. Then I positioned the tractor across the road to get the best angle. When I activated the winch, it just pulled my tractor backwards, despite my locked brakes. Only when I lowered the sharp edge of the tractor bucket down into the pavement, forcing the front tractor wheels into the air did I get enough traction to pull his pickup into the road.

Matt explained that when he came around the corner off the Flat Road, he accelerated "just a little" to just break traction on the rear wheels. The road was slipperier than he realized, and the truck spun around and entered the snowbank backwards! He will probably remember that experience for a long time.

I started cutting firewood for next winter last week. As most of my woods roads are still soggy, I began by cutting grey birch trees within winch cable length of the main road. That way, I can set the tractor at the edge of the road (we don't get much besides local traffic on our dead-end road!), hook the cable to the trees, just winch 'em out and drag 'em down the road to a wide place and pile 'em up there beside the road. I'm hoping that by the time I recover from hernia surgery my logging roads will be hard frozen. Last year I cut about 40 cords of firewood which took most of the summer to split by hand and deliver, one cord at a time.

A couple weeks ago, our West Bethel Union Church pastor John Williams had the young children down to the front of the sanctuary and asked several leading questions about Christmas: "Who is going to be coming in a couple of weeks? Is he going to bring you anything? Whose birthday is it on Christmas Day?" and the like. When Christy Hanscom got home, she asked, "Why does the minister ask us all those questions? Shouldn't he be answering our questions instead?" Her mom, Amy answered that that was a very good question!

Last Saturday, we had a packed house for the annual Christmas tree decorating, carol singing, and arrival of Santa Claus celebration at the West Bethel Church. There was standing room only in the basement dining room for the fellowship supper preceding the other festivities. I didn't count, but there must have been more than 20 children scurrying around, smiling, helping put decorations on the tree, and breathlessly awaiting Santa's arrival. And a good time was had by all!

DBA: Village Sweets

Village Sweets is a new chocolate and candy store located in Bethel at 162 Main Street in Philbrook Place. It's a great place for sweet gifts. Village Sweets features premium chocolate made by Lake Champlain and Scharffen Berger, as well as local favorites like Haven's of Maine. They carry a complete line of nostalgia candy, like Sky Bars. Village Sweets offers organic and sugar-free candy and chocolates as well. There are 32 bins of bulk candy, including Zagnuts and Gummi Bears. The display case is filled with truffles and chocolate bark. Hot chocolate and hot fudge are also available. Owner Jill Bujnowski may be reached at 824-0636. Open every day until Christmas.

Hawaii

A recent visitor with Pete and Darlene Baker has been their daughter Heather from Colorado.

Lori Dempsey and Dan Force have returned home from a trip to Florida.

On Tuesday, Dec. 5, Hanover hosted the December meeting of the Oxford County Municipal Officers Association at Rumford Point Church. A delicious chicken pie dinner was served to the 45 attendees. Greenwood Town Manager Kim Sparks chaired the meeting. An informational discussion about the proposed Roxbury and Byron wind power project took place with former Maine governor Angus King and his partner Rob Gardner (formerly of Maine Public Broadcasting). There were many questions asked from the audience. There were 15 select persons, planning board members, ballot clerks and other officials from Hanover attending the meeting.

The Hanover Town Office has announced that hunting and fishing licenses for 2008 have arrived and are available for sale. They are great for Christmas gifts.

The Hanover Town Office also reports that renewal and new dog licenses are well behind last year's rate. Remember that dogs should have their new tags before Dec. 31, 2007. A new dog needs to be licensed after it is six months old. Spayed and neutered dog licenses cost $6 while the fee for unaltered dogs is $11. Be sure to have your pet's spay/neuter certificate and an up-to-date rabies certificate when you come to the Town Office. If your veterinarian told you that your dog's old two-year certificate is good for three years, you need their written statement certifying the new expiration date.

Over the next year Hanover will be conducting a revaluation of all Hanover properties. The town has contracted with John E. O'Donnell & Associates of New Gloucester to complete the program. Starting this fall and winter representatives of the company will visit each property in Hanover. All employees will carry company identification and authorization from the town. The Oxford County Sheriff's Office and the Maine State Police have been notified of the project and more information is available at the Hanover Town Office. The project will provide Hanover with a computerized assessment record system. Property owners will be able to discuss their properties with representatives of O'Donnell & Associates before the new assessments are completed.

dent on Route 2 in the early evening one day last week.

Greenwood City

We certainly had a very busy week. Anita has been busy with the Legion doing a luncheon for the Greenwood-Woodstock Senior Citizens. Course there was the usual bingo evenings to cook for and help with the potluck supper on Thursday evening with the Tree lighting. By Friday evening she was worn out. We never knew a thing till after 9 a.m. Saturday morning.

I had one appointment in Rumford VA clinic on Thursday afternoon and then on Friday afternoon at Togus. Ray was scheduled too, so we had a good day. Then we stopped at Rebecca's for a late lunch. I have fondness for their large lobster roll. Some type of wicked good. Ray had to agree. We did have a good day. Really think if we were younger we might just be arriving home now.

On Saturday evening, the Wilburs joined us for Appreciation Night at Post 150 in Mechanic Falls. The meal was very good. There was roast pork with cranberry stuffing and all the fixings. Seems Al Lake's sister, Rozan, was instrumental in the preparation. And then there was the usual presentation of gifts and a DJ provided rather loud music for dancing. I've lost just a wee bit of hearing and could barely hear anything of importance. Good night to try out hearing protection.

Anita's uncle Jesse was with us too. He figured he was extra special as he was waited on very handsomely. The meal was served and when his draught was empty a full one appeared before the empty hit the table. We caught up on the new barn for his oxen and so on. Anita's brother Bruce built the barn and was his first. Expect Bruce will stick with finish work and especially with the cold weather.

With the snow cover we can see with ease the tracks of all the deer traveling the neighborhood. Last Tuesday evening we went to Market Square for dinner. We decided that with Anita's schedule for the week, we better at least eat dinner out as it was our anniversary. As we were returning on the Greenwood Road by Holts, a very nice buck stood in the road and really didn't care if we had to wait on him.

But as he turned and jumped over the pasture fence, he left us with a picture that will remain for a long time. He was a six pointer and was picture perfect. Bet the mayor has seen him several times this season.

Smile and keep them wondering what you are up to!

The Historical Society museum looks very nice now and they are proud of it. Don't forget the society's little museum store; they have society products to sell. The Historical Society is a vital part of the community.

Do support it all you can; they really appreciate it. It is a small group but they work hard to maintain a fine museum facility. They welcome your help. Do join and contribute all you can. There are books on art, antiques and many pictorials on Maine and New England in the research library. The society is growing with a few new members.

Larry Billings attended the West Paris Universalist Church and heard Rev. Beal preach on Advent. The Peruvian tapestries the church got were beautiful. Larry was glad to hear they were getting a new organ. Larry is going to put a superb exhibit in his cultural center. It will greatly enhance the atmosphere there.

West Paris

This latest snow is here to stay for the winter. All is now white and is squeaky under foot these early mornings. The roads were too bad this past week so I did not keep my appointment for a permanent in Bethel. Will have to try again this week.

On Saturday, Linda and Dede Chase were in Buckfield for the open house to view the Christmas decorations in several homes. They reported every one was beautiful and they enjoyed seeing how others decorated.

On Sunday, Dec. 16, the Rev. Richard Beal will lead the service at the West Paris Universalist Church at 9 a.m. At 5 p.m., the Christmas potluck supper will be held followed by a program at 6 p.m. when Mr. and Mrs. Santa will visit. All are welcome.

On Sunday afternoon a large gathering celebrated the hanging of two large tapestries in the sanctuary and the new piano/organ, which were dedicated in memory of the Rev. Joy Gasta. The tapestries were made by Peruvian women and are beautiful works of art. Sara Wright told of the making of them and also the baskets that they weave. Joy Gasta was minister of the Universalist Church for nine years.

Beryl Bonney and I shopped in Norway and Oxford last week and Beryl treated me to an early Christmas present of a lunch at Maurice's. We always enjoy that restaurant and had a tasty time. I also had my TB test earlier so that I can continue working with the Hospice.

The Universalist Church will hold a candlelight service on Christmas Eve at 6 p.m. All are welcome.

Volunteers Make It Happen

The Mahoosuc Kids Association offers a wide variety of enrichment and after-school programs for the students of SAD44. Pictured here is a printmaking class with instructor Tera Ingraham, Tyler Thurston, Ryan Anderson, Griffin Leham, Abby Harrington, Caroline Finley, and Peyton Hart. Other examples include outdoor exploration, photography, knitting, cooking, crafts, Beginner Spanish, and First Lego. MKA students also do community service projects such as cards for the Veterans Home and the back-to-school and holiday backpack projects. MKA is always looking for community members to share their talents with students. For more information on how to volunteer contact Julie Hart, MKA director at Crescent Park School (824-7007 or MKA@sad44.org).

men came to clean the furnace but is not afraid as much as she has been in the past.

And, it just doesn't feel Christmas without the fluffy white stuff.

We want to thank Judith and Mike Coletta for their thoughtfulness in getting the boys each an advent calendar (with Danny's favorite - Chocolate!). It is very much appreciated and the boys are enjoying opening the dates and eating the treats. We really do live in a very nice area with great neighbors. Plus, we get the added benefit of enjoying the colorful Christmas lights our various neighbors have put up.

Best wishes for a happy and safe week. God Bless and Keep.

Albany

by Sheila Dyke

Greetings and Hello from Albany Township. From the weather forecasts, it certainly seems as though we will be having a white Christmas this year. That would be nice for a change. As much as I dislike driving in the stuff, it does make the winter more cozy.

The US EPA Announces the Availability of a Technical Assistance Grant for the Chlor-Alkali Superfund Site

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) received a "Letter of Intent" from the Androscoggin River Watershed Council to apply for a Technical Assistance Grant (TAG) for the Chlor-Alkali Superfund Site in Berlin, New Hampshire. A TAG provides money to community groups to contract independent advisors to interpret and explain technical aspects of site reports and proposals for site cleanup. EPA may award only one TAG per site, with an initial award amount of up to $50,000.

To ensure that the community is represented, EPA encourages any other interested groups to consolidate with the Androscoggin River Watershed Council and submit a joint application. Interested groups should contact: Barbra Barrett, Program Coordinator, Androscoggin River Watershed Council, PO Box 1541 Bethel, ME 04217, (207) 527-2163, trek@megalink.net

Groups have until January 15, 2008 to join together, or submit their own "Letter of Intent." Groups who have submitted a "Letter of Intent" shall receive an application package and have until February 15, 2008 to submit full applications for the TAG. To be considered complete, the application must identify expected outputs and outcomes in accordance with EPA's Strategic Plan.

Letters of intent, grant applications, and questions should be directed to: Robert Shewack, Technical Assistance Grant Coordinator, U.S. EPA, One Congress Street, Suite 1100 (HBS), Boston, MA 02114, (617) 918-1428. For more information about TAGs, including defining project goals and objectives, please check: <http://www.epa.gov/superfund/community/tag/index.htm>

Waterford

by Rockie Graham

It is 5 below as I write this. I did not know it was going to get that cold. Kevin and Joe did not prepare me for this. Tasha went out at 7:15 and came back at 7:17. She was very impatient to come back in. I saw her race across the yard and arrive at the door to whine as loud as she could. She knew it was cold. I hope everyone can stay warm. We are worried because we know that the cost of oil is outrageous and that LIHEAP can give only about one tank of oil per customer. What will people do after that? I think we are going to have to create shelters if the price of oil doesn't go down. We thought the ice storm was bad; this could be worse. Help! Senators Snow and Collins! Your people need you here in Maine.

Dave and I attended a great Chanukah party this past weekend at the home of Stan and Carole Rothenburg. It was great fun. We lit two menorahs, had latkes (potato pancakes) and all had a great

The Waterford Grange 479 celebrated its 100th Anniversary Nov. 24. A day of celebration took place at the Grange Hall. Martha Flint of Bridgton presented a 100-year plaque from the National Grange. Twelve Grange members participated in the observance. Pictured are, front (from left): Hugh and Maxine Roak, Joanne Frobig, Marge Kimball, Nellie Roberts, Linda Hooker and Barbara Sanborn. time. David was tired when he had to get up for work the next day.

Thursday, Dec. 13, the Waterford/Stoneham/Albany Lion's Club will hold their monthly party and gift swap. It is at the Stoneham Ambulance Barn.

Thursday there is also a Christmas Supper and caroling at the Wilkins House. It is a potluck at 6 p.m., and should be fun.

Saturday Sue Clement Farrar will hold another book signing for her wonderful book, "Short Stories for Children and for the child in all of us". This is from 1 to 3 p.m. at Books N Things on Main St. in Bethel. It is a great book.

Saturday at 7 p.m. the Waterford Library holds their annual community gathering on the commons with candlelight caroling and then refreshments at the library. Children may visit with Santa and each receives a book from the library.

Hats, mittens, gloves, boots and jackets are still being collected at the Bethel Transfer Station. We delivered one load to Waterford Elementary School. The next will go to Crescent Park and Telstar. So many children go to school without their mittens or lose them on the way. There is a barrel at the transfer station. Ask the attendants and they will direct you.

Have a great week and try and stay warm.

cal restaurants.

This is a "come and go" open house, but several special activities have been scheduled. All afternoon a children's room will feature tree decorating, story-telling, and music. In addition: at 2:30 p.m. a Gould ensemble under Jim McLaughlin's guidance; at 3:15 p.m. a reading of "A Child's Christmas in Wales" performed by a group working with Lynn Arizzi; at 3:45 p.m. caroling led by the Congregational Church Choir; and at 4:15 p.m. a short mime skit presented by Lynn Arizzi and a Senior Players group.

There is no charge. In the spirit of the season, there will be an opportunity to contribute to the Seeds of Peace organization, which sponsors an uplifting summer program in Turner, where young people from troubled regions like Palestine and Israel learn leadership skills, nonviolent dialogue, and peaceful coexistence.

The party will take place regardless of the weather. We hope you see you there!

Toward its programmatic mission, a current Lewin Center focus is sponsoring a Bethel Area Community Conference for fall '08 or spring '09. This will be a community project, with planning and design developed through a collaboration of community individuals and groups. An initial planning meeting will be held in early January. Please contact Nancy Davis if you'd like to help in this important venture.

We always welcome questions and ideas from community members. If you'd like more information on any of the above, or just have questions about The Lewin Center, please call Nancy Davis at (207) 256-6956. Visit us at www.lewincenter.org.

Western Mountains Senior College

Senior Players once again wowed two capacity audiences in last weekend's performances as well as a number of Red Hats in attendance at their dress rehearsal. Sixteen cast members, in top form in a variety of ten plays, included Joe Arizzi, Walter Brough, Jodi Carter, Mary Colbath, Read and Leigh Dickinson, Lorrie Hoeh, Sharon Lyon, Joanne Morse, Tineke Ouwinga, Karen Paul, Roberta Taylor, Rosabelle Tift, Carole and Ross Timberlake and Arita Zito. Jay Boschetti and Carol Campbell assisted on props and Josh Oliver on lighting.

Cast members expressed special appreciation to Director Lynn Arizzi for her efforts in helping to make this fourth seasonal production another successful event.

Community Holiday Celebration
Western Mountains Senior College will be represented at the new Community Holiday Celebration to be held on Sunday, Dec. 16, from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Lewin Center's Gehring House.

At 3:15 p.m., sixteen members of WMSC will present a special reading of Dylah Thomas' "A Child's Christmas in Wales," directed by Lynn Arizzi.

At 4:15 p.m., one of the popular Senior Players one-act plays, "A Young Man's Fancy" by Evelyn York Osborn, will be presented in mime by Karen Paul, Carole Timberlake and Sharon Lyon. Roberta Taylor will serve as the reader.

This new event is open to the community and includes refreshments and festivity for all.

Down Home Maine

Peter Gartner, co-chair of WMSC and chair of the program committee, reports that over 40 people attended the recent Down Home Maine presentation on "Huts and Trails from Bethel to Moosehead." Larry Warren and David Herring of the Western Mountains Foundation explained the plans and progress on this unique recreational endeavor to an enthusiastic and responsive audience.

Down Home Maine presentations are held on the first Thursday of the month. However, the January program featuring Sara Wight has been postponed until June due to the holidays. The next program will be held on Thursday, Feb. 7, from 4:30 to 6 p.m. at the Gehring House and will feature Chris Sweet, head of the Lifelong Learning Project on MPBN.

an accredited degree granting college or university in the fall, and who has, in the judgment of the Board of Directors of the Andover Educational Fund, made the greatest contribution to the Town of Andover while he or she has lived there." Applicants submit an essay on their civic contributions to the Edfund in mid-May. At the annual alumni banquet this past spring, Abby Mills was presented this award. Abby is the daughter of Brian and Sue Mills, and the granddaughter of Roger and Dottie Mills, Jr., and Pat Burnham. Abby is pursuing a career in the medical field at the University of Vermont in Burlington.

The Sweatt Family Memorial Scholarship was started in 1998 with an endowment of $25,000, and was set up in memory of Chester and Jessie Sweatt and their five children. Since then, the fund has grown to $73,750. Seventy five percent of the earnings are awarded to, but not limited to, a student entering a vocational plan of study. Recently we have disbursed $1,000 for awarding, and will be available annually to the recipient until he or she graduates. At the spring alumni banquet Nicholas Hammond, the son of Jeff and Lori Hall, and the grandson of Bobby and Darlene Tucker Hall, was presented this scholarship. Nick is attending the NASCAR Technical Institute in Mooresville, NC.

An alum and educator from Andover, Anna Thurston, retired from the teaching profession in Connecticut. When she remembered the Edfund in her will, The Anna Thurston Memorial Scholarship was established. An essay entitled "What an Education Means to Me" is submitted to the board by mid-May. Abby Mills was presented this $1,000 award which is disbursed for the sophomore or second years of study.

er. Mayberry introduced Rev. Anne Stanley who led the invocation.

Fellow board member Wendy Penley led the countdown to the tree lighting. "Four on a Match," the female barber-shop quartet comprised of Alda Reynolds, Auburn who sings lead, Suzanne Bartlett of Bethel, who sings bass, Rosalie Fredricks of Lewiston, who sings baritone, and Darlene Glover of South Paris, who sings tenor and is also the nurse manager of the Emergency Room and the ICU at SMH, serenaded the group with several holiday carols before leading the group in the singing of "Silent Night."

The Christmas Tree Lighting fundraiser is a tradition that was begun by Alice Cornwall 25 years ago.

Tree light tickets may be purchased in honor or in memory of someone, and are posted on a board in the hospital lobby as well as published in the annual report.

The funds generated by the event allow Stephens Volunteer Services to lend support to Western Maine Health and continues to enjoy much success, thanks to the commitment of the community.

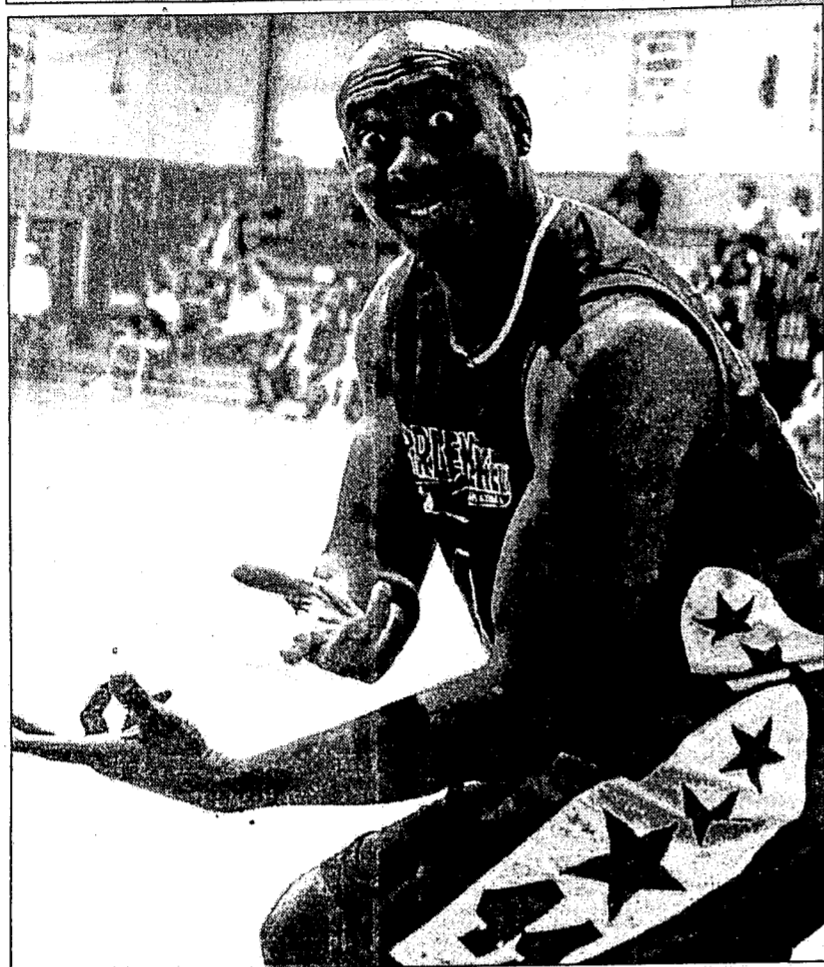

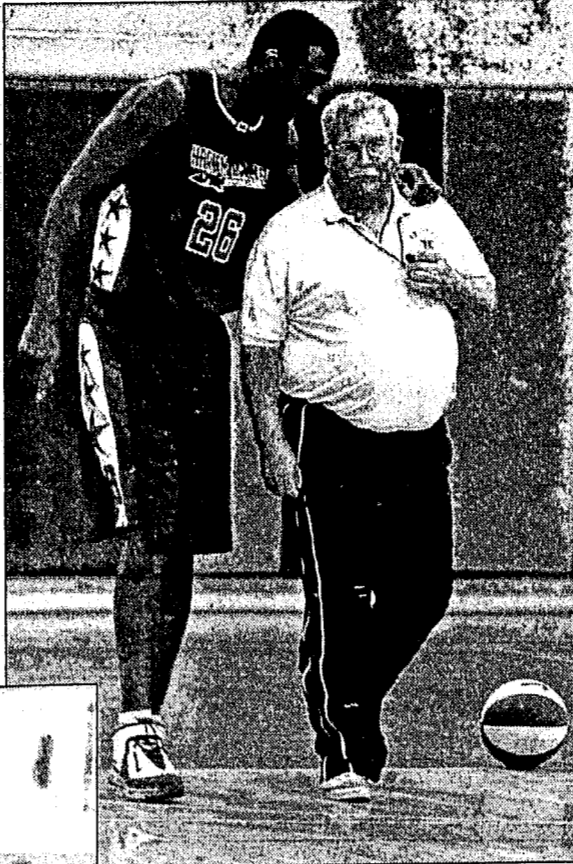

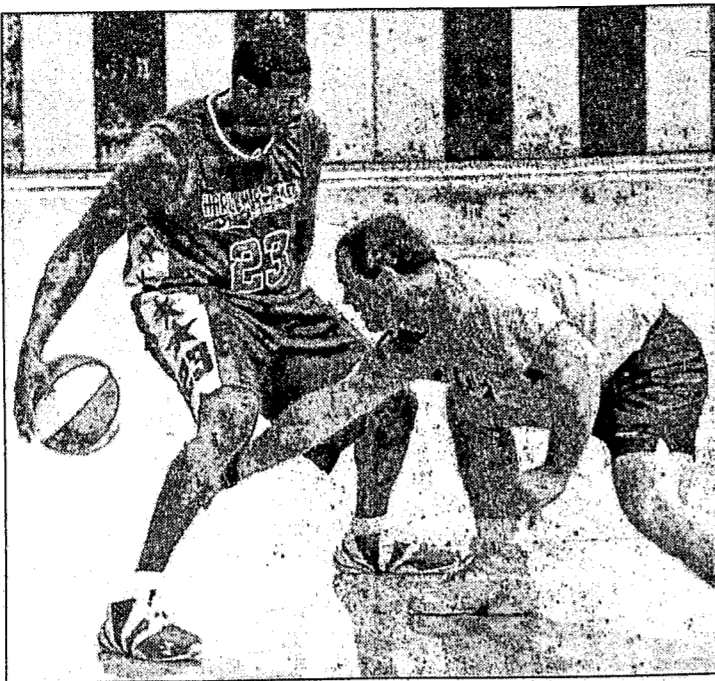

The fundraiser continues thru Dec. 31. Tickets are $5 each and can be purchased in the hospital coffee shop or in the administration office.

Stephens Volunteer Services and Stephens Memorial Hospital is an affiliate of Western Maine Health, which is part of the Maine Health family. Visit Western Maine Health on the Internet at www.wm-hcc.org.

Sports

High School Boys' Varsity Basketball

Gould 48, Elan School 43 Dec. 10—Gould junior Joe Johnson paced a balanced Gould attack scoring 17 points with freshman Jeff Fortunato adding eight, senior Ry Russell five, freshman Max Wales five, junior Scot Baribeau five and junior Phil Johnston and sophomore Shuo Yuan Bai each adding four points. Gould improves to 2-0 in league play.

Madison 63, Telstar 44; Dec. 8—Telstar scorers: Whitney (16); Walker (5); Vaughn (4); Fleet (3); Hannigan (7); Maines (4); Kimball (5). Whitney had two three-pointers and Fleet, Hannigan and Kimball one each.

Gould 67, Greater Portland Christian School 43; Dec. 7—Gould's Joe Johnson, a junior from Roxbury, Mass., led the Huskies with 32 points while freshman Jeff Fortunato, also of Roxbury, chipped in 18 points as Gould won their opening game of the season.

Gould 60, Kents Hill 76; Dec. 6—Gould junior forward Joe Johnson of Roxbury, Mass. led the Gould attack with 27 points and freshman Jeff Fortunato, also of Roxbury, chipped in 16 points.

High School Boys' J.V. Basketball

Telstar 46, Madison 32; Dec. 10—Telstar scorers: Joel Putnam (13); Dan Vaughn (12); Elek Pew (8); Alex Gundersen

(6). "Joel Putnam led a balanced Rebel attack as the JVs opened their regular season with a win at Madison. Dan Vaughn hauled down 14 rebounds to lead the Rebels." —coach David Berry

High School Girls' Varsity Basketball

Georges Valley 50, Telstar 45; Dec. 10—Telstar scorers: Bailey Davis (16); Emma Davis (5); Josie Reiss (17); Esther Pew (8); Vicki Crockett-Rice (2); Brianna Douglass (2). Davis, Davis and Reiss each had a three-pointer.

Gould 61, Elan School 23; Dec. 10—Gould junior forward Seana Siekman of Bethel led Gould with 14 points, while senior Chelsea O'Brien of Freeport added 10 and junior Katie Smith of Hanover had nine. Guards Michaela Cummings, a junior from Bethel, and sophomore Stephanie Savage of Bethel each contributed eight. Notable defensive players include junior Kate Roberti of Bethel and Stephanie Savage and Kate Smith.

Madison 63, Telstar 45; Dec. 7—Telstar scorers: Bailey Davis (16); Emma Davis (7); Josie Reiss (12); Esther Pew (4); Vicki Crockett-Rice (2); Brianna Douglass (4). Bailey Davis had two three-pointers and Emma Davis one.

Gould 40, Greater Portland Christian School 23; Dec. 7—Senior Chelsea O'Brien of Freeport finished with 18 points and junior Seana Siekman of Bethel finished with nine. Both dominated inside play for the Huskies, leading the team to an opening game win. Michaela Cummings, a junior from Bethel finished with 11 points, including a three-point play in the fourth quarter.

High School Cross-country Skiing

Gould Co-ed Nordic Skiing
New England Nordic Ski Association (NENSA)
Competition (Great Glen/Atomic Sprints 1km Sprint Race); Dec. 8—Gould sophomore Peter Cowan of Bethel, sophomore Scott Talbot of Falmouth, and senior Derek Harnden of Castleton, Ont. raced well against a strong field of college skiers and finished ahead of many of them. Gould Eighth Grade Program competitor Jeb Clarke of Bethel finished second overall among junior competitors.

TMS Boys' Varsity Basketball

Jay 57, Telstar 52; Dec. 5—Telstar's Corey Howard led the way with 26 points, while Danny Whitney had 16. Casey Thornton improved as the game went on and scored six fourth quarter points.

Mt. Valley 55, Telstar 27; Dec. 10—Telstar lost to a much faster Mt. Valley team. The scoring was very even for the Rebels, with Corey Howard scoring six, Danny Whitney five, Casey Thornton and Drew Wilson four each.

Infant-Toddler Specialist - West Bethel
If you are an enthusiastic, energetic individual who enjoys working with infants and toddlers, we want you to join our Children's Services team at our West Bethel Children's Center as an Infant-Toddler Specialist.

This position is up to 20 hours per week, 52 weeks per year, starting at $9.50 per hour. The Specialist will ensure that children participating in Early Head Start receive the highest quality child development opportunities.

Specific duties: supervising all classroom events; maintaining appropriate records and documentation; designing and participating in developmentally appropriate classroom activities by collaborating with parents and other staff.

Qualifications: Bachelor's degree in Early Childhood Education with a specialty in Infant-Toddler Development is highly recommended; an Infant-Toddler Child Development Associate (CDA) is also preferred. A minimum of three years experience in a center or home child care setting specializing in infants and toddlers is highly recommended. Completion of Denver II Certification is a requirement of this position after hire. Physical requirements include lifting up to 50 lbs. and regularly participating in high-energy activities such as climbing, crawling, etc. Background checks, physical exam and TB screening are completed upon hire. Must have a valid driver's license and automobile with liability insurance; must have a telephone. For more info: please visit www.community-concepts.org.

To Apply: interested, qualified applicants must submit a cover letter, resume, and Community Concepts' Application for Employment (available at our business sites or at www.community-concepts.org/employment/howtoapply.htm).

Send all required materials to:
Community Concepts, Inc.

BEFORE BUYING A HOME!

Where do you start when you are ready to buy a home? Before you begin looking for a home, you have to make some decisions. You need to decide what is important to you when purchasing your home. Before starting out on your home search it is a good idea to sit down and develop a list of what is important and what would you like in your new home. Your list could include schools, neighborhood, amenities, number of bedrooms, number of baths, a basement, a separate dining room, 2-story family room or foyer, one level ranch plan, master bedroom on the main level, special financing, seller willing to cover closing costs and the list goes on and on.

An experienced buyer real estate agent can help you through the process. There is no such thing as a perfect house, therefore once you have developed your list you should begin to prioritize it. You can prioritize into, "must have", "should have" and "would be nice to have". By having a clear understanding what you want in your new home, and the priority of those items, you will be in a much better position to decide whether you want to put an offer on a house you see and like. It is also a good idea to consider whether you want to purchase a new or pre-owned home.

REAL ESTATE AND YOU

DISCLOSE! DISCLOSE! DISCLOSE!

You just listed your home for sale, and you withheld a few "little" problems from the Realtor. The family room leaks, but only when it rains; the outlet in the back bedroom won't spark unless something is plugged in; and the area rug in the living room covers a stain in the oak flooring.

It is a mistake to think that your home will sell more quickly by concealing its defects. These seemingly insignificant items can escalate into major issues that can threaten a sale, and possibly result in litigation. Many states have passed laws regarding concealing defects from an agent or buyer.

The essence of these laws is -- DISCLOSE!! If something in your home is not working properly or needs to be repaired, fix it or make sure that your agent discloses it to the prospective buyers. The court will probably not be lenient if you claim ignorance about a problem after having lived in the house.

Obituaries

ROBERT A. DAVIS

Robert A. Davis, 70, of Billings Hill Road, Bryant Pond, went home to be with his Lord and Savior on Dec. 9, 2007, at his home, the same home he was born in, surrounded by his family.

He was born on June 29, 1937, the son of Edgar and Lectie (Jordan) Davis. Robert was educated in local schools and graduated from Woodstock High School in the Class of 1956. He married Norma Stevens on Aug. 22, 1959. He worked as a mill worker most of his life but farming was his real love.

One of his many legacies is that he taught all of his children and grandchildren to drive tractor on a 1955 Farmall Cub tractor, which they still own. He loved his family very much and always had a great sense of humor.

Robert was a member of the Pinhook Meeting House Society, was a long-time member and deacon at the Bryant Pond Baptist Church where he taught Jr. High Sunday school for many years and was a member of the Woodstock/Greenwood Senior Citizens.

He is survived by his wife of 48 years, Norma Davis of Bryant Pond; two sons Paul McInnis of Norway and Percy McInnis and his wife Robyn of Bryant Pond; two daughters Carol Davis of Bryant Pond and Christine Lindsey and her husband Kenneth of Bryant Pond; one brother, Philip Davis and his wife Sonja of Bryant Pond; five granddaughters, Amanda, Crystal, Michelle, Alyson and Kara; six great-grandsons Lucas, Noah, Elijah, Caleb, Kyle and Bradley, one great-granddaughter Jasmin, a second great-granddaughter, Grace, who is due in February 2008; a nephew and several nieces. He was predeceased by his brother, Lloyd Davis; and sister, Emma Billings.

Visiting hours will be held at the Andrews Funeral Home, 64 Andrews Road, Bryant Pond on Thursday evening from 6 to 8 p.m. Funeral services will be held at the Bryant Pond Baptist Church on Friday, Dec. 14, at 1 p.m., with the Rev. Larry Hodgkins officiating. Burial will be in the Lakeside Cemetery, Bryant Pond.

In lieu of flowers donations may be made to the Bryant Pond Baptist Church Building Fund, 112 Church Street, Bryant Pond, ME 04219. Online condolences may be left at www.andrewsgreenleafuneralhomes.com.

Thank You

I would like to thank everyone who came and made my party such a happy and enjoyable event. Thanks for the cards, gifts, and flowers. Thanks especially to my children and grandchildren: Byron and Donna, Tim and Cory, Jaime and Carl, Katie and Kyle, Jeremy and Michelle, and to Yvonne Jellison for keeping me busy.

Thanks again,
Buzzy Lapham

Births

Weddings

Mr. & Mrs. Andrew J. Cronin

Elaine and Jeffery Hutchins of Gilead are pleased to announce the marriage of their daughter, Misty Lynn Hutchins, to Andrew Joseph Cronin, son of Elizabeth and Joseph Cronin of Melbourne, Australia. The intimate ceremony took place in Maine this fall on the Bethel Common, followed by a dinner reception at the Gideon Hastings House. Sixty close friends and family attended the festivities from as far away as Australia, South Africa and the United Kingdom. Justice of the Peace Robin Gundersen presided over the double-ring ceremony and Bryanna Gray Thompson played the violin.

Janet Black of Designs coordinated the interior decorating and flowers for the event. The bride wore a tailor-made 1950's-inspired ivory, vintage dress with matching hairpiece, and carried a bouquet of red roses. Maid of honor was the sister of the bride, Shilo Hutchins, and best man was the best "mate" of the groom, Andrew Comer.

The couple resides in Melbourne, Australia, where the groom is a director at a global accounting firm and the bride is a sales manager for a global credit card company.

Mr. and Mrs. Cronin send greetings from "down under" to all their friends and family in the U.S. and are thrilled to announce they are expecting their first baby in April 2008.
